

BECKI SALTZMAN

Short Bio

Becki Saltzman is Chief Curiosity Seeker at Applied Curiosity Lab. Her engaging and actionable presentations and workshops (in-person and virtual) help forward-thinking organizations apply unique ways to illuminate and navigate the future, capture insights, and make better decisions.

As a best-selling content creator/online learning instructor (LinkedIn Learning) and author, Becki doesn't specialize in everything. She is, however, a content expert in Applied Curiosity, critical thinking, ideation, and decision-making. She received her graduate degree in applied behavioral science from Washington University in St. Louis. In her spare time Becki enjoys great travel adventures, crowded dance floors, and brown drinks.